LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Around Home News.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Anderson, of Colfax, McLean county, celebrated their golden wedding October 20.

Mr. Phil Faught's two-year-old baby, while playing on the Wabash railroad at Gibson City Saturday night, was run over and killed.

A young man named Trude secured a considerable sum of money from merchants in Lincoln, Saturday, by means of forged checks.

At a depth of 100 feet a strong flow of gas was found in the well, at Mattoon, Saturday. The well will probably be bored to a depth of 3,000 feet.

Rev. E. Schlink, a German Lutheran preacher from Richland, claims to have been drugged and robbed at Vandalia, Saturday, while on his way to Montice'o, where he was to have preached Sunday. He says he drank a glass of beer that had been drugged.

There is quite a sensation in and about Farmer City and Weedman. It is said that a young man well known in those places has been using light weights in weighing cattle, and that he attempted to bribe a young weighmaster in the O., I. & W. yards at Farmer City to weigh cattle light.

"The Corsair."

Edward E. Rice's dainty spectacular burlesque, "The Corsair," will be seen in Decatur for the first time at Powers' Grand Opera House, on next Saturday evening, the 26th inst. Those who are familiar with Mr. Rice's productions are fully aware of their high order, and those who are not have only to see "Adonis," "Evangeline" or "The Corsair," to acknowledge him a leader in this line of business. "The Corsair" is the most gorgeous spectacular play of the season and probably no presentation of burlesque has ever been given anywhere surpassing it in magnificence. The company is a large one, numbering sixty people, and the scenery occupies the entire stage, no part of the regular scenery of the opera house being used in its presentation. The first act opens in the Market Place and Slave Bazar of Stambout, a very effective Oriental street scene, with the Bosphorus in the distance. The third scene in the same act represents a ship at sea in a very realistic fashion. In the second act the Pirate's Grotto by the sea and the Gardens of the Pasha are both gorgeous with color. In the latter a fountain of real water plays amid prismatic colors, making a beautiful effect. The last act, however, is the most resplendent of all. This is the Harem of the Pasha in the Palace of the Curtains, where one rich curtain after another is drawn aside disclosing the tableaux vivants with all the beauties of the Pasha's household in picturesque poses. The transformation scene at the close, "The Palace of Pearl," forms a climax to the succession of stage pictures. The cast is an unusually strong one and the company contains a large number of comely young women whose graceful evolutions and bright costuming form a series of moving pictures that have a great fascination for the front rows.

Williams' Australian Herb Pills.

If you are yellow, bilious, constipated, with headache, bad breath, drowsy, no appetite, look out, your liver is out of order. One box of these Pills will drive all the trouble away and make a new being of you. Price, 25 cents. John A. Swearinger, agent.

THE following extract from Senator Sherman's Cincinnati speech is of special significance at this time:

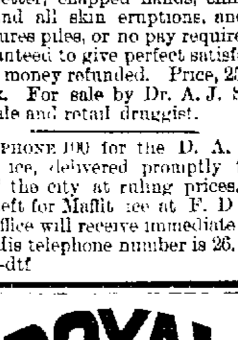

If you will stand by me—and I am not afraid to express my opinion on this question I will tell you what you will do. You charter American steamships to run from the United States to every South American country. Give them a bounty, if necessary, for carrying mails. Let us extend our markets there, that the surplus products of your manufacturers may find in those vast countries an open field in those republics that are growing rapidly by copying our example, and that invite us to share with them their prosperity; and if we will only do our part, we will build up a trade in those South American Sates that will rival and exceed our trade with European nations. The Democratic party cannot be trusted with this policy. They are hide-bound; they are double-twisted. They can not be trusted with it; it would be "agin the Constitution," and Mills and Breckinridge and all those fellows would shout: "No, it can not be done, it is subversive of the constitution." And every Northern Democrat would say, not without some grunting, "Amen."

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Considerable Business and a Quiet Session.

The regular meeting of the city council last evening was attended by all the members excepting Aldermen Park and Moran. A number of important questions received attention. The first thing to precipitate a struggle was the petition to take some steps to open Prairie street across the Illinois Central. Attention was called to the fact that Mr. Shlaudeman is about to erect his ice factory on North Broadway, directly in front of where Prairie street now ends, and that unless action was soon taken in the matter, it would be impossible to open the street in the future. Alderman Finn favored the granting of the petition and ordering the attorney to take the necessary legal steps for opening the street. The fact that there is no street open across the Central from Wood to William was made a strong point in favor of his stand. Alderman Metz considered the opening of the street impracticable on account of the hilly ground lying just east of the Central track, and futhermore he did not want to throw any obstacles in the way of a new enterprise. Several other aldermen favored this view and the matter was referred. Quite a squabble ensued over the proposition to pay the Decatur Tile company for paving done on street intersections. It seems the company made a net bid for paving offering no discount for cash. The ordinance reads that the payment shall be provided for in the appropriation for the next fiscal year, but the contract says the company shall be paid when the work was completed. Other contractors have been paid this summer, but the Tile company has been held off, because of a refusal to make any discount for cash. It was claimed by some aldermen that no money was due the company until next spring and if they wanted the money paid now they should concede a discount of 5 per cent. It was contended, however, that if the city wanted a reduction for cash it should have been specified in the contract. The proceedings in detail were as follows:

PETITIONS ETC.

A petition was presented from draymen, expressmen, etc., asking the council to defeat the proposed amendatory ordinance in reference to licensing hacks, drays, etc. Referred to the Ordinance Committee.

S. M. Irwin asked the council to allow him to remove the gas post at the southwest corner of his store and to place in the same location his mortar sign and post Referred to the Sidewalk and Crossing Committee with power to act.

Ole Johnson stated that he had sold his building on Maryland street and closed out his saloon business. He wanted a rebate of license money from October 22 to November 10th. A motion to grant the desired rebate was lost.

A petition signed by thirty-seven merchants requested the appointment of W. F. Lawrence as night patrolman. Referred to the mayor with power to act.

James F. Montgomery submitted a communication setting forth that under the ordinance of the city he had built a brick sidewalk on the south side of his property on East Eldorado street at a cost of $86.47 and that when the street was paved the walk was taken up and the street paved to the edge of his property, leaving him without a walk and entailing a loss of $86.47. Referred to the Sidewalk and Crossing committee.

A petition from property owners asking the council to take steps to stop the erection of the ice factory on North Broadway because of its preventing the opening of Prairie street across the Illinois Central railway was read.

Alderman Finn spoke in favor of the petition. Alderman Metz said the opening of the street was not feasible because of the lay of the ground east of the railroad. He was not in favor of interfering with an enterprise that would involve the expenditure of $50,000 or $60,000. A motion made by Alderman Simpson was seconded that the petition be referred to the Street and Alley committee. The motion was adopted.

The petition of the Citizens' Electric Street Railway Company and of the citizens along the line of that road for a double track from Water street to Front street, was granted.

The petition of the Citizens' company to extend their line on Water street, north one block, was granted. This takes the company to the city limits and is the initial step in the extension north above the P. D. & E. railroad

REPORTS.

The Public Improvement committee stated that Dempsey & Giblin had completed the intersection at Eldorado and Monroe street, containing 298 5-10 square yards, also the alley between College and Monroe streets containing 57 7-9 square yards, the total cost being $473 84. The committee recommended the acceptance of the work. The report was adopted.

The Water committee reported having examined the premises of Geo. A. Henderson in reference to the statement made by him in regard to using water after it had passed through his motor. The committee reported that Mr Henderson was re-using the water for purposes for which the ordinance established a tariff and the permit issued to him for his water motor did not authorize such use of the water without the payment of the required tariff. The report was adopted.

The Water Committee, to whom was referred the statement of John T. Barrett in relation to the Clapp & Jones pump, reported as follows: We recommend that said pump be put in first class condition. It will be necessary to build a new foundation but do not think the pump will have to be removed for this purpose. It is thought the pump can be raised and the new foundation put in. It may be necessary to replace some of the old parts of the pump with new ones. The report was adopted.

The same committee to whom was referred Engineer Barnett's monthly report in reference to the amount of water pumped, reported that Mr. Barnett had no means of knowing how much water was pumped except by the indicators. Adopted.

The report of the Public Improvement Committee on public paving done by the Decatur Tile company, which was laid over from the last meeting, was taken up and a motion made to adopt the same and accept the work Alderman Scanlan moved to amend to issue a warrant in payment of the same.

Alderman Scanlan thought the company was entitled to their money. There had been no specification in the contract for a discount. Alderman Metz believed it was no more than right to ask a discount for the payment of a large amount of money. Under the ordinance the city did not have to pay the money until June 1st J. M. Clokey was allowed the floor in behalf of the tile company and denied the right of the council to hold the company off, when they were paying other contractors for like work. Alderman Metz moved to amend to refer the report to the F... Committee. He received a second from Alderman Simpson. The ayes and nays were called and all the alderman voted against the amendment except Aldermen Metz and Simpson. The motion as amended by Alderman Scanlan was then adopted. The amount due the company is $6,527.73.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The trustees of the First M. E. church asked to tap the Roberts & Greene sewer on William street without the payment of the usual $15 fee. The privilege was granted.

BILLS ALLOWED.

Wm. Lindsay, $45.50; W. F. Logan, $3.30.

ORDINANCES.

The ordinance granting the Citizens' Electric Street Railway company the privilege of laying a double track from Water street to Front street, was passed by a unanimous vote under a suspension of rule 15.

An ordinance was also passed for the extension of the road one block north on Water street, from the present terminus.

An ordinance was passed for the following sidewalks: A six-foot walk on the south side of East William street from State to Franklin; for a six-foot walk on the east side of North State street, from William to Park street; for a six-foot walk on the west side of State street, from Park to William street; for a brick walk eleven feet and six inches wide, on the east and west side of North State street from Park to East Main street.

An ordinance amending the ordinance in relation to shows, exhibitions, etc., was referred. The proposed amendment grants the council the privilege of allowing any exhibition or show to be given without the payment of a license fee.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Finn and Harwood; That the superintendent of streets open the gutter on the east side of Broadway from Cerro Gordo to North street. Adopted.

By Scanlan That a public test of the fire pressure be ordered to take place, after the repairs on the engines have been completed. Adopted.

By Shoemaker: That the Central railroad company be notified to widen the road between their tracks on Eldorado street. Adopted.

By Metz: That the superintendent of streets be ordered to cut the alley between State and Franklin streets, so the water will not run on Henry Bauers' property. Referred to the Street and Alley committee with power to act.

By Simpson: That the street superintendent procure and set out elm or other appropriate forest trees on the boulevards on the east and north sides of the city park. Adopted.

By Scanlan: That the marshal notify Roberts & Greene to clean the street in front of their building just erected. Adopted.

By Harwood. That the city gravel two blocks of North Water street from the paved street to the point where the gravelling of the Bloomington road begins. Referred to the Street and Alley committee.

By May: Authorizing an ordinance for walks on the east and west side of Boyd street from Decatur street as far south as graded. Adopted.

By Graham, Shoemaker and Metz: That the Water Committee be instructed to build a new foundation for the Clapp & Jones pump and have the necessary repairs made. Adopted

By Simpson: That the Illinois Central be notified to keep open the roadway along their right of way from Eldorado street to the depot in accordance with an agreement made some years ago In case of the company's failure to do so the attorney was instructed to commence suit compelling them to take the desired action.

On motion of Alderman Shoemaker the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for paving the Illinois Central right of way on East Eldorado street, under the old ordinance.

On motion the council adjourned.

TUESDAY EVE., OCT. 22, 1889.

Hill vs. Cleveland.

The spiteful allusion of Gov. Hill, in his speech at Atlanta, to the effect that he had "left his cyclopedias at home," was repeated again a day or two later at Chattanooga, and the worshippers of Cleveland are in a state bordering on a white heat. They do not need an opera glass to enable them to see the point. They take it for just exactly what it was meant to be—a spiteful fling at the ex-president—and they are in a frame of mind that will lead them to take a vicious delight in introducing their knives in the vitals of Gov. Hill and his friends at the first opportunity that presents itself. Whether that will be in 1892, when Hill is at the head of the Democratic ticket, can only be guessed at now, but to an outsider it looks very much as though the opportunity would be much nearer at hand. The friends of Cleveland have other grievances, back of Hill's Atlanta speech. They do not hesitate to charge the defeat of Cleveland in 1888 to Hill. They allege that the latter sacrificed the president in order to elect himself, and they point to the subsequent action of Hill in turning the knife around in Cleveland's vitals, so so speak, after he had been knifed in the house of his friends, as proof of the charge. The manipulation of the Democratic state convention in New York, so as to place the control of the party in that state in the hands of Cleveland's enemies, his friends allege as another proof of Gov. Hill's determination to crush out whatever of Cleveland sentiment exists there. And this last unkind dig they point to as the last straw that broke the dromedary's back—a dig, they allege, that would have done no discredit to the most cheat Republican in the land. And so the jamboree goes in between the friends of Grover Cleveland and the admirers of David Bennett Hill, whose chief stock in trade is his boastful announcement, "I am a Democrat," with which he is wont to open his speeches.

But while it is plain that Cleveland's friends propose to knife Hill whenever the opportunity offers, suppose that Cleveland should be the candidate in 1892, in spite of all that Hill can do to prevent it. What will the bachelor governor do about it? Will he cheerfully come up to his support, or will he do a little more knifing? That is the interesting conundrum that confronts the Democratic party, and with the electoral vote of New York as the prize which will elect whichever candidate it goes for the situation grows more and more interesting. There's great fun ahead.

OUR old friend, Maj. Miller, of the Tuscola Review, has been visiting St. Louis, and descants in his paper of the beauties and wonders of the "Future Great," but he has evidently not kept himself posted on the improvements in street nomenclature. He tells in his usual elegant way of "shauntering" along Fifth street, forgetful of the fact that the thoroughfare in question put on New York airs several years ago, and has since been called "Broadway," so that the gallant Major should revise his letter and tell what he saw while "shauntering down Broadway." It makes all the difference in the world, you know, whether the representative of eastern Illinois journalism went shauntering down Broadway, or merely shuntered down Fifth street. Nothing like accuracy, Major.

NEW YORK is apparently unsatisfied with the amount of ridicule heaped upon it in the matter of unconstructed monuments, for a project has been mooted to erect one to the momory of John Jay, the first Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. It has grown to be an established fact that any project which calls for cash subscriptions from the people of New York must be a failure, and the inevitable collapse of the present one will simply bring the grevious condition of affairs more conspiciously before the public eye.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN has been in a great deal of trouble recently, but John is himself again. He began another spree in Boston on Saturday. He took possession of a barber shop, closed out several patrons, and dropped in at a police station. He may now be fairly considered in the race for congress.

GEN. RAUM took possession of the pension office yesterday, and spent the day in going around and "getting the hang of the barn." He has not yet announced his "policy" or told what changes he proposes to inaugurate.

RAILWAY TRACK TALK.

The Central people are laying the rails for their new double track between Manteno and Peotone.

James Gogerty is acting as general yardmaster during the absence of J. D. Hoban. Owen McCune is assistant yard master.

Charley Daniels, a Wabash switchman at Tilton, had one of his feet caught in a frog Saturday, and before he could extricate it he was thrown down, and the cars cut off his left arm below the shoulder.

George Manzy has received word from his friend, Fred Boyd, who recently wrenched his ankle at Toledo, that he is not improving as well as was expected. He is at the home of his parents in Quincy.

Conductor Charles Parker, who runs on Wabash trains Nos. 44 and 45, has been relieved from duty. Frank Gould brought over his train to-day. The ways of the powers that be are mysterious and past finding out.

A railroad official who is authority, states that it costs 33 per cent more to run a vestibule train than an ordinary train, under the most favorable circumstances. This extra expense includes the cars in order.

The Indianapolis, Decatur & Western is showing a very respectable increase in earnings this month over those of October, 1888. For sixty days preceding, the the earnings hardly reached those of the corresponding period last year.

The latest engines to go into service on the I. C. are five McQueen moguls with boilers set above the frame, after the style of the hard-coal burners on the Reading, and other eastern roads. They weigh 45 tons, and have cylinders 18x26 inches.

The Illinois Central people are so well pleased, it is said, with the McQueen locomotives, purchased recently, that they will order four others for use in passenger service. These locomotives are built in Schenectady, N. Y., and have many improvements which none others possess.

Judge Gresham has released General John McNulta, receiver for the Wabash, from all liability on his bond, and was discharged as to any further duty. He is retained, however, to allow any parties having suits now pending or entitled to begin suits along the line to bring suit legally against him as receiver, without which suits would have to be begun anew.

The Age-Herald says: The railway brakemen should protest against having to shout the names of stations. No brakeman has ever been able to communicate the name of a station successfully, and it is a great waste of wind to try to make any body hear on a railway train when the train is not standing still. Every brakeman should paint the name of the station on a tag, and display the letters at the front door at the proper moment.

Peoria Transcript: Billy Wilson, the popular P., D. & E. passenger conductor, has turned farmer. He has not given up his situation, but he has had off and gone on a trip to Colorado. Billy has a timber claim in that great state, and took along a bushel of walnuts to plant and make his claim good. He intends to plant walnuts in every square foot of ground on that claim, and make it the greatest walnut forest in Colorado. Billy is a good soul, and whether it be punching holes in tickets or in the green sod of Colorado, he is bound to thrive.

Had the Mules Out.

This forenoon something happened to the motor on the Water street branch of the Citizens' line and Joe Blantford, the driver, had the car run into the house for repairs. During the wait Joe had to drive a span of mules hitched to an old car to accommodate the North Water street patrons. There was no need of a trolley man. It looked odd to see the mules out again, and Joe got the laugh on him all along the route.

Going to Alabama.

Yesterday Governor Fifer appointed the Illinois delegates by congressional districts to the National Farmers Congress to be held at Montgomery, Alabama, November 13 to 15. The delegate for the 14th district is Dennis Kenyon, of McLean county; alternate, Hon. D. P. Keller, of Macon county.

News Notes.

The Waynesville schools were closed last week on account of scarlet fever.

Mr. Morris, the newly appointed postmaster at Lincoln, will take possession of the office about Nov. 1.

F. L. Smith, a resident of Clinton, and Arthur Jewell, of Galena, have started a broom factory in the former place.

The electric light plant in the state asylum for the feeble minded, at Lincoln, is completed, and will be operated by an expert for a few weeks until its success is fully demonstrated.

D. W. Lusk, of Springfield, a well-known Republican politician, is seriously ill at the residence of Hon. M. M. Bassett in Peoria.

While digging a ditch a few days ago on the farm of ex-Supervisor Bogardus, in Deer Creek, Tazewell county, the workmen found the antlers of a deer a few feet below the surface, in a good state of preservation.

The Gibson canning factory closed last week, having put up 1,175,070 cans. The amount of land planted was less than 1,000 acres, and the output is at the rate of about fifty cases to the acre, which is certainly a wonderful product.

Army Doughnuts.

A Massachusetts officer details with evident enjoyment some foraging exploits of the northern army during Sherman's great march. One of these was of a sort which even the bitterest Confederate might have enjoyed.

One day a forager noticed an ornamental shrub growing in a yard of red clay, with marks of black loam on it. It struck him that it was not in its native soil, and he went for that bush.

It easily came out of the ground, and out of the hole under it, of which it was the tell tale, came a whole stock of provisions and family clothing.

Another of our men, while crossing a plowed field, was attracted by suspicious signs, and ran his ramrod into the ground. A foot down it struck something solid.

The kind hearted finder hastened to make others such as well as himself. He ran down to the band with two tin cups running over, one with syrup, the other with peach batter, while the delicious sweets dripped from his clothing and his person, as if in confirmation of his pleasing tale.

"Plenty more right up there; forty-two hogsheads full!"

Sometimes a mistake was made. One of a band, passing a log house, levied on it for a calabash of lard, and the usual batch of doughnuts was fried that night.

A peculiar flavor, supposed to be due to an excess of soda, was noticed; but hard marched men, with sharkish appetites, did not stop for trifles. Daylight revealed the fact that the doughnuts had been fried in soft soap.—Youths' Companion.

BOWMAN'S BOW.

Tragic Death of a Notable Member of the American Bar.

He Falls Before the Gun of a Prominent St. Louis Business Man,

While in the Act of Serving Papers in His Professional Character—A Remarkable Career.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.—At 1:15 p. m. yesterday B. M. Chambers shot and instantly killed Frank J. Bowman at Ferguson, Mo., a suburban village seven miles north of this city.

Chambers was, thirteen years ago, one of the principal stockholders of the St. Louis Times, and he and Bowman have been engaged in litigation ever since the failure of that paper in 1880.

At the hour above mentioned Bowman called at the county residence of Chambers, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Charles Garrett, of St. Louis County. The purpose of the call was to levy on Chambers' life interest in his wife's estate, or whatever other property they could find.

Chambers met the two at the gate, and inquired their business. Being told of its nature, he exclaimed: "All right," and entered the house. Bowman and Garrett stood at the gate a moment, when Chambers reappeared with a double-barreled shot gun in his hands.

"Garrett, you get out of here, quick," said he, and Garrett hurried away.

Turning to Bowman, Chambers said: "Now, I'll give you three minutes to get off these grounds."

Bowman did not move, and the next instant Chambers raised the gun and poured the lead into Bowman's breast. The men were standing close together and the full charge took effect, and Bowman fell dead without even a groan.

Chambers then walked into his house and waited for an officer to come and arrest him.

Bowman was one of the best-known men in St. Louis. He practiced law here for many years, and moved to New York about three years ago. He gained considerable notoriety over certain domestic scandals, but principally in his long fight with the St. Louis Bar Association, in which, after having been disbarred from practice by jealous rivals, he secured his reinstatement through the action of the Missouri Legislature.

In 1875 he fought a duel with Major John W. Edwards, managing editor of the St. Louis Times, who, like himself, was a man unknown to fear.

Chambers is also a well-known man. He was president of the Butchers' and Drovers' Bank, which failed several years ago, and to satisfy the creditors of which he bankrupted himself, and permitted the use of large amounts of money belonging to his wife and sister, at their earnest solicitation. He afterwards bought the Times from Stilson Hutchins, and sunk considerable money in the venture.

Mr. Chambers was arrested during the afternoon by Sheriff Dosenbach and taken to the County jail at Clayton, where he arrived about seven o'clock, and where the dead and horribly-mutilated remains of Mr. Bowman soon after arrived in charge of Deputy Garrett.

When seen in the sheriff's office Mr. Chambers appeared calm but grave, and kindly but positively refused to be interviewed.

LAWYER'S FEES.

Don Piatt's Appeal from a Judgment in Favor of His Attorney.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22.—A suit was filed in the Supreme Court yesterday in which Don Piatt, the noted newspaper writer, is the plaintiff, against David S. Honeshell, an attorney, who was some years ago employed by Piatt.

The case comes up to the Supreme Court on a petition in error to the Circuit Court of Logan County. In the lower courts Honeshell sued Piatt for $850 claimed to be due him for services as an attorney. Several cases were referred to in the original petition in which Honeshell was Piatt's attorney, and various amounts were claimed to be due in each. One of the fees sued for was for defending Piatt in the sensational action brought against him by his daughter, Nellie Piatt, who charged him with criminal intimacy. This case created much excitement, both because of the horrible nature of the charges and the prominence of the parties implicated. Piatt was at that time editor of the Washington (D. C.) Capital.

The lower courts decided the suit for attorney's fees in favor of Honeshell, giving him a verdict for $324. Piatt now brings the case to the Supreme Court, hoping to secure a reversal of the judgment.

AT CHICAGO.

The Nation's Guests Conducted Through the Modern Wonderland on the Lake Shore.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The Pan-American delegates went to bed last night after another busy day of sight-seeing. They found no escape in Chicago from the attention they have received in other cities. It was not a propitious day for sight-seeing, cool lake winds fanned the visitors at all points on the day's route, and not a ray of sunshine found its way through the lowering clouds.

At 11 a. m. the party were driven to the depot, where a Pullman vestibuled train awaited them. The first stop was at the McCormick Reaper-works, through which the delegates were conducted and shown the process of completing a reaper each minute. Swift's Packing-house was next visited, and the butchering rooms and cutting department inspected. After visiting the stock-yards, the party left for Pullman, lunching on the train on the way. All parts of the industrial village were visited; the car depot, carpenter shops, hotel, arcade, dwellings, library and theater.

On their return to the city the excursionists were driven through Jackson and Washington parks, to the post-office, where an examination of the interior operations was made.

Lieutenant Cross' Sanity.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A writ of habeas corpus was granted yesterday in the Supreme Court, directing the superintendent of the Butler Insane Asylum at Providence, R. I., to produce the body of Second Lieutenant Amos Cross, U. S. A., in court October 25. It is alleged by counsel for petitioner that Lieutenant Cross is and always was sane, and that his removal from this city and confinement in another State was illegal, and the result of a conspiracy; that its purpose was to enable the Lieutenant's brother, Elisha W. Cross, of Wakefield, R. I., to obtain control of the Lieutenant's property, valued at over $200,000, and that Elisha Cross is now wasting the property.

Yesterday's proceedings are only preliminary. The writ is not binding on a person outside this State, and the superintendent may ignore it. In that case further proceedings will be had. Lieutenant Cross was pronounced insane by the Commissioners of Lunacy of this county in August, 1885. He owns a large amount of real estate at Ochre Point, near Newport, R. I.

SHE 'PEACHED,

And Told the Story of Her Husband's Taking Off.

Partners in Crime Should be Sure of the Staying Qualities of Their Confederates.

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 22.—The trial of William H. Bartholomew for the murder of Washington Dillard, was stopped suddenly about noon yesterday by Mrs. Dillard (who is charged with complicity in the murder) coming into court with Sheriff Miller and announcing her determination to tell all she know about the murder of her husband; then pleading guilty to murder in the second degree and accepting sentence in accordance with that grade of crime. Her counsel objected to this procedure, but the woman was determined in her action and the court finally adjourned in order to allow the attorney time for consultation.

Court reconvened at 2 p. m., and Mrs. Dillard was placed on the stand. She testified that she was thirty-two years old; lived in Bartholomew's house two years; was criminally intimate with him there and at the last place of residence. Her husband intended to move to Mercer County, and he told Bartholomew that they were going. Bartholomew was at Dillard's house the night before the murder. He had Dillard's gun with him, and said he would take the nipple off it and come to the house the next night; that he would make the chickens cackle, and that Mrs. Dillard and her husband should then come out in the yard; that he would be at the big cherry tree and shoot Dillard that night. Mrs. Dillard awoke her her husband when she heard the noise, and they, accompanied by their son, went down to the yard, Dillard catching the gun, which his wife handed him, and a lantern.

"When we got to the tree," Mrs. Dillard continued, "I told him (Dillard) to look up in the tree. I then heard a noise, and my husband came back and fell dead on the porch. Bartholomew wanted to rent the farm, and said we would all live together. We would not agree to that. He then wanted me to go West and live with him. I said I would not go so long as my husband lived. I would have been ten times better off if I had never seen Bartholomew."

Here the witness broke down and began to cry.

On cross-examination it was admitted that she was promised that her sentence would be changed to imprisonment for life if she went on the stand. Mrs. Dillard was then taken back to jail and the trial of Bartholomew proceeded.

OUT OF THE DEPTHS.

Awful Sufferings of the Survivors of the Earnmoor.

Arrival of the Remnant of the Crew at Philadelphia — A Tale of Woe.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—The seven survivors of the ill-fated steamer Earnmoor, which foundered at sea, September 5, in a cyclone three hundred miles off Turk's Island, while bound from Baltimore to Rio Janeiro, arrived here yesterday from New York, whither they were brought by the steamer Santiago from Nassau. They tell a story of great suffering. The Earnmoor struck a terrific gale on September 4, which increased in force, and at 11:30 a. m. on the following day the vessel gave a lurch and foundered. As the steamer sank the port life-boat floated off from the ship between the funnel and the main mast, and several men clung to the boat and scrambled in. They were the second officer, second and third engineers, four sailors, three firemen and the cook. An effort was made to save the rest of the crew and a drag was made of the painter, but the boat was blown away, and the oars were wrested from the hands of the men, so that no one could be saved. The cries of the drowning men as they were dashed about by the mountainous waves were heard by the men in the boat, but they could not be reached and had to be abandoned to their fate. It was impossible to put back for them. It was an oversight that the boats had not been provisioned in anticipation of the calamity, as it would have saved the terrible sufferings of the survivors. Fortunately, the boat drifted into the Gulf Stream and the air was warm, but this increased the intensity of their thirst.

"The horrors of hunger on the second day became awful," said Carl Crane, one of the survivors, to-day, "and it increased as time wore on. We managed to pick up sea weed in the Gulf Stream, which gave us a little nutriment, and on the third day a flying fish was caught. This was immediately cut up in a portion for each man and devoured. We also captured a sea bat and sucked its blood, and then ate the flesh after it had dried in the sun. The first man to die was a seaman named William Robinson, of Baltimore, and the second was the third engineer, Thomas Hunt, of Philadelphia. One night while we were all asleep except a German fireman named Plagg, who was on watch, he suddenly became insane and jumped overboard. We were too weak to save him. We were without a compass, and steered by the sun by day and the stars by night. Eleven vessels passed us—one, we are certain, saw us and deliberately left us to our fate. When three hundred miles off Hatteras we were picked up by a schooner. I can not describe in words our joy at the sight of deliverance. We were so weak that we had to be lifted upon the vessel's deck, and one of our men, Ed Johnson, a Norwegian, fell overboard and was drowned."

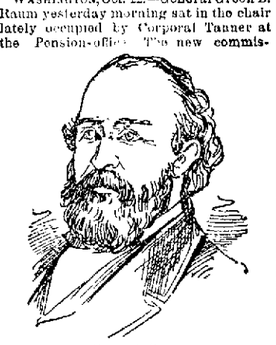

The Earnmoor was largely owned in Philadelphia. The following is a list of those who were lost:

Richard J. Grey, master, Philadelphia.
A. Painter, first mate, Philadelphia.
H. Soutas, first engineer, Philadelphia.
W. Dammer, boatswain, Philadelphia.
Stephen Perry, steward, Philadelphia.
James Durand, mess boy;
Robert Johnson,
Carl J. Jurkeisen,
Edward Johnsen,
Wm. Robinson,
James Chisiatudo,
Amedeo Leagnore,
Henrich Mans,
A. Flagg,
James Sinclair,
Herman Tonges—all of Baltimore.

Those who were saved are H. Stone, second mate, and Thomas Meterum, second engineer, Philadelphia; Wm. Wright, cook; Wm. Davis, Ludwig Leder, Carl Crane and A. Foster, of Baltimore.

The New Commissioner of Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—General Green B. Raum yesterday morning sat in the chair lately occupied by Corporal Tanner at the Pension-office. The new commissioner was at his office promptly at nine o'clock and assumed control quietly. He had taken the oath of office Saturday, and also met the subordinate officers of the office on that day. Yesterday morning he received a number of friends who called to pay their respects, and made a tour of the different divisions to see the methods of procedure employed in each.

Sad End of a Tramp Typo.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22.—A special to the Dispatch from Springfield, O., says: Mike J. Hierley, a tramp printer, was fatally injured Saturday evening while walking to Dayton, on the Big Four railroad track. He was drunk, and while crossing the bridge over Mad river, was struck by the express train and thrown off. He fell forty feet, striking an abutment and finally the jagged rocks below. His face was battered almost out of shape, and the chin cut open so his throat could be seen. His skull was fractured and his legs broken. He was a member of the Trenton (N. J.) Typographical Union, and is from Lynchburg, Va., where his brother, a wealthy grocer, resides.

Collided in a Fog.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The schooner Lottie, Captain Summers, for Richmond, Va., with railroad iron, sailed from here early yesterday morning. In going down the lower bay about 3:30 a. m., she collided with the schooner Florence Randall, from New Haven, in ballast for a Southern port. The Lottie was struck on the starboard side, doing her considerable damage. She put back for repairs. The Florence Randall was not much injured. There was a thick fog in the bay at the time.

Sinking Ground.

NEGAUNEE, Mich., Oct. 22.—Saturday night the ground over the South Buffalo mine began sinking, the movement extending until the Queen mine was also affected. Several acres of ground have sunk from ten to one hundred feet, and the movement still continues. Small mine buildings, railroad tracks and trees were engulfed. All the miners have quit work underground, and are now employed on the surface removing material from the dangerous ground. The extent of the damage can not be estimated till the caving-in stops, and nothing can now be done to prevent the continuance of it. The loss will be very heavy.

The Lonesome Party in Convention.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Representatives of the Greenback party met here yesterday and nominated Rev. Thomas K. Beecher, of Elmira, for Secretary of State; John B. Sullivan, of Westchester, for Comptroler, and Joseph Madison Hall, of Hamilton, for State Treasurer. The nomination for State Engineer and Surveyor will be made later. A platform was adopted reciting the familiar tenets of the party. Rev. N. S. Scholer acted as chairman and Geo. C. Hunter as secretary of the convention.

NO!

NOT DEALERS IN FLOUR.

We deny it because one cannot be a dealer who parts with the merchandise without any valuable consideration Why do Ferriss & Lapham give barrels and barrels, and sacks and sacks of Flour away to people who trade with them? It is because it is good to have, it is bone and muscle, and brains; otherwise they would give sand or salt, or something else cheaper than Pillsbury's best—and a barrel at a time, and sack after sack of Hillabarger's and Hatfield's very best flour.

[illegible] shoes of FERRISS & LAPHAM and get 10 per [cent] more shoes than elsewhere for the same price, and [you] will also find that you stand an equal show with all the balance of the world in having the best flour in the world without costing you a cent in the world.

WEDDED AT MAROA.

A Morning Marriage at the Presbyterian Church.

The Presbyterian church at Maroa was crowded this forenoon at 9 o'clock by the many friends of the lovely bride to witness the marriage of Dr Walter K. Hoover, of Lovington, Ill., and Miss Effie S Bean, the accomplished daughter of Mr and Mrs. J. P. Bean, who reside on a farm near Maroa. The wedding bell march was played by Miss Ara Smith, of Maroa, and the attendants were Miss Emma Adams, of Moweaqua, and Elam Hill, of Maroa, Miss Frecia Hill, of Maroa, and Thurlow H. Pratt, of Chapin, Ill The bride was attired in a becoming broadcloth traveling suit of green, with hat and gloves to match, the bridesmaids in tan colored suits and the gentlemen in conventional black Among the wedding party from a distance were Mr and Mrs James Albright, of Armington, Miss Estella Kidder, of Argenta, Mrs David Hoover, of Macon, Miss Cloria Dawson, Homer Fry, L S Runyan and E E. Johnson, of the New Era, all of Lovington

Immediately after the ceremony Dr. Hoover and bride came to Decatur on the Central train, and left at 11 25 for Chicago, where they will remain for a few days, returning on Monday to Lovington where they will reside, and where the physician has a lucrative practice

Arrested for Bastardy.

Yesterday afternoon Marshal Mason received a telegram from John Ragland, sheriff of St Clair county, to arrest Jacob Weisguth, Wabash switch engineer, and hold him until called for by an officer Weisguth was taken in charge by Officers Butts and Baylor, and Sheriff Ragland was wired to that effect The sheriff came up on the midnight train, and returned with the prisoner this morning Weisguth, who is a young German, is wanted at East St. Louis for the betrayal of a young woman, and he will have to marry her or go to jail He has been working in Decatur for some months

Ladies and the Bicycle.

During the days of the late State Holiness Camp meeting in Decatur, it will be recalled that a Quincy lady attending the meetings at Oakland Park rode into the city on a safety bicycle. The vision was so unusual that the graceful lady attracted general attention as she went skimming along astride the machine. She was always accompanied by her husband. At Quincy many ladies are seen on the bicycle the somewhat cumbersome bicycles having been relegated to the garrets and sold to less ambitious females. The craze has broken out at Peoria, and it will strike Decatur sooner or later, if indeed many of our ladies have not already contracted the fever to vie with the young men in guiding the machine in runs of long and short distance. A neat suit is one of the essentials. Those of the fair sex who are contemplating the wheel exercise will be glad to hear of a new costume especially designed for this purpose. It is made in tweed or cloth, the model is of a grayish brown check, a very serviceable color as not showing dust, the plain skirt full at the back and pleated in front. The novelty of the costume lies in the fact that the foundation on which it is made can be let down longer when the wearer is on the machine and shortened again for walking, this being accomplished by a simple arrangement of buttons and cords, thus, when cycling, the skirt is let down and covers the feet, when on the ground raised again to walking length. The bodice is cut as an ordinary Norfolk jacket, with a belt securing the pleats, and is lined with sanitary cloth.

Guessing at the Seeds.

That mammoth Chili Squash, in the show window at John Irwin's White Front clothing store, weighs 144 pounds and is six feet, 9 inches around, 18 inches through from top to bottom, and 26 inches across. It was grown on the Thomas Watt place south of Decatur. Owing to its size and surface beauty, it attracts much admiring attention. Mr. Irwin offers a cash prize of $5 to the person who will correctly guess the number of seeds in the squash. It will be opened and the seeds counted by a committee on or before Thanksgiving day. The guesses are coming in rapidly and a record is kept of the names and numbers sent in.

Emma Abbott To-Night.

Emma Abbott, the brightest diva in English grand opera of the age, will appear at the Grand this evening with her grand opera company—Annandale, Mirella, Michelena, Montegriffo, Pruette, Broderick, Allen, Keady, Karl—with grand chorus and orchestra. The company is by far the strongest Miss Abbott has ever had The opera chosen is "Rose of Castile," Balfe's greatest work—a grand opera of great beauty of music and luxuriance of costume. There has been a very flattering advance sale of reserved seats and all will be given a rare musical treat

He Is Better.

Decatur friends have received a letter stating that John S House, Wabash train despatcher at Springfield, who has been dangerously ill with typhoid fever and a patient at the Wabash hospital, is better It was thought for awhile that he could not recover. Now he is scarcely more than skin and bones His wife, who was formerly Nellie Corneau, was called to Springfield from California and has been attending her husband for ten days or two weeks at the hospital. John formerly lived in Decatur.

Christian Endeavor Meeting.

At the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society held in the lecture room of the First M. E church last evening the following program was observed. Vocal solo, Miss May McKenzie, Female Quartette composed of Misses Mira Nicholson, Myra Carmany, May McKenzie and Maude Aikin, vocal solo by Miss Nellie Gehr with Miss Emma Thomas as accompanist. The meeting was in charge of the mission committee Officers, to be elected the following Monday night, were nominated

New Overhead Switches

Yesterday Manager Ferguson, of the Citizens' line, received the long-delayed overhead switches for the electric street car line, and when they are put in place there will be no further need of trolley men Manager Ferguson will have another car on the Condit street line this week He expects to have the new cars from St Louis here this week

A Big Addition.

Supervisor L F. Houck is busily engaged in building a large addition to his grain elevator at Harristown. The improvement involves considerable expense, but the supervisor is bound to have space in which to store the grain of the farmers in that end of the county.

Out Macon Street.

In a chat with Manager Martin, of the Decatur line last night, it was intimated by that gentleman that he would seek to extend the electric line out on West Macon street toward the ball park and river. A line to the river would do great business in the summer season

STOP that coughing, if you don't it may kill you. A bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup only costs you 25 cents, and its timely use may save your life.

IVERS & POND

PIANOS.

No PIANO in the world, whatever the name, reputation or exorbitant price, surpasses the IVERS & POND in excellence of materials and workmanship very few even approach it in these—and the late patented improvements which the Ivers & Pond contains easily puts it at the very head This is not extravagant exaggeration of an advertisement but a plain statement of facts

THE PATENT PIN BLOCK construction makes the piano stand in tune better than any other in the world, without a single exception It is based upon the non shrinking quality of wood end wise of its grain

THE PATENT KEY BOTTOM, based on the same principle, and the PATENT KEY BOTTOM SUPPORT of metal, give the piano a superiority over all others in matters of stability of action

THE PATENT AUTOMATIC EXTENSION MUSIC DESK gives the whole length of the piano for music brings it nearer the hands than most desks and is of incalculable convenience to players in duet and to hold music for several instruments, as piano, violin and cello.

THE PATENT SOFT STOP saves hammers and tone from wear, while practicing, reducing the quantity of sound so that it cannot be heard in the next room It does not change the action and does not produce a tubby tone, but leaves it clear and vibratory while light in volume loud and soft pedal effects are possible, the latter reducing the tone almost to inaudibility Your neighbors ought to have it to prevent annoyance to you—you ought to have it to protect your neighbors by having it yourself

Turkey

TIME TO CALL A HALT

LONDON Oct. 22—The Daily News' Constantinople special says that the American Minister has entered a complaint to the Turkish Minister of Justice that the court and the magistrates before whom the trial of Moussa Bey the Armenian Governor, is being held, is conducted outrageously for the accused. The Minister of Justice simply denied that there was any foundation for the complaint, and insisted that the trial was being conducted with perfect fairness to both sides The American Legation will not press the charges of outrages upon American citizens unless other charges fail

THE CHOLERA

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct 22—The cholera is still making frightful ravages in the valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates There have been seven thousand deaths within the past three months, and there are as yet no signs of the abatement of the scourge

Africa

THE DELAGOA BAY DISPUTE

LONDON Oct 22—The negotiations between the Portuguese Foreign Minister and Lord Salisbury on the subject of the recent Delagoa Bay dispute have reached a critical point, and it is evident that the Portuguese Government while desirous themselves of making the most ample reparation for the high-handed manner in which the property of British subjects in that quarter of the world was confiscated by Portuguese officials, are prevented from doing so by the bitter tone of the Lisbon and the provincial press. The newspapers are almost a unit in breathing hatred on the English, and in protesting against any reparation whatever to the owners of the Delagoa Bay railroad, seized upon a paltry pretext by the Portuguese authorities there Well informed diplomats still fear trouble as a result of these complications

Russia

OPPOSED TO THE VISIT.

ST PETERSBURG, Oct 22—The Russian press are a unit in decrying the visit of Emperor William to Constantinople

STRUCK OIL

ST PETERSBURG Oct 22—News has been received from the oil regions that the Messrs Noble have struck another great naptha well in Baku The rumors of failures in the old wells are pronounced groundless

AID FOR FAMINE SUFFERERS

ST PETERSBURG, Oct 22—The Czar and his family have donated 14,000 roubles for the sufferers by famine in Montenegro

Austria

TOOK THEIR SHARE

VIENNA, Oct 22—The Lander Bank yesterday signed for its share of the loan of 27,000 000 marks to the Bulgarian Government recently negotiated Banks in Berlin take the balance of the loan

France

A NEW RUSSIAN LOAN

PARIS, Oct 22—It is stated that a new Russian loan is to be offered to the public by the Rothschilds about the middle of December next

Germany

SENTENCED FOR SMUGGLING

BERLIN, Oct 22—Thirteen men, all sailors have been sentenced at Aachen for smuggling corn into Germany Their operations during the past year aggregated hundreds of tons of grain

A 'JACK THE RIPPER' MYSTERY

Munich, Bavaria, has a "Jack the Ripper" mystery quite as profound as that of Whitechapel Two girls were found murdered in the streets there early yesterday morning, and their bodies mutilated in a manner to lead to the suspicion that the London fiend had started on his travels Great excitement prevails in Munich

Zanzibar

THE JESUITS EXPELED

LONDON, Oct 22—The Zanzibar agent of the London Missionary Society reports that the natives have driven out the Jesuits from Unjamjembe and destroyed their mission stations.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is If you have ever tried it you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. The Latest Musical Wonder of the Age,
THE CELEBRATED CALLIOPE,

To be GIVEN TO THE BOYS with Every Purchase of $1.00 or more, at

JOHN IRWIN'S WHITE FRONT.

Of all the musical gems on earth,
To which talent and genius ever gave birth,
The credit is due, 'twixt you and me,
To JOHN IRWIN'S WHITE FRONT CALLIOPE,
As the old and the young, the rich and the poor,
Can have one and learn it with pleasure for sure;
For notes it emits in delicate strains,
Delighting the soul and refreshing the brains.

Gvien Away with Every Purchase of One Dollar or More,
